House in South Tyrol's Überetsch area

Aluminium-PVC windows in a single-family house

The owners of this new building in South Tyrol's Überetsch area wanted discreet windows that perfectly matched the village backdrop while offering excellent insulation. The choice thus fell on the FIN-72 Classic-line series with its subtle and slender lines. The aluminium exterior offers especially effective protection against the weather, while the PVC core guarantees high thermal insulation values. Our PVC entry door from the Style line integrates perfectly into the overall picture.
