Single-family house in the Burggrafenamt

PVC windows in a single-family house.

The owners of this new building, a single-family house in South Tyrol's Vinschgau Valley, wanted windows with a classically simple aesthetic that would blend harmoniously into the surroundings in this apple-growing region. They therefore opted for the FIN-72 Classic-line windows. With their traditional, slightly bevelled edges, these windows are a perfect match for the architecture and at the same time allow plenty of light into the interior. The PVC construction ensures very good thermal and acoustic insulation and also makes them extremely easy to maintain.
